1. Overview

Chief Mate on ships less than 3000 gross tonnage certificate of competency

This guideline is for new applicants for the Chief Mate on ships less than 3000 gross tonnage (Chief Mate <3000 GT) certificate of competency. It does not cover recognition of an equivalent certificate obtained outside New Zealand.

The information in this guideline covers sea service, training and other requirements for the certificate, how to apply and pay for your certificate, and where to find more information.

Once you have your Chief Mate <3000 GT certificate it is valid for five years. To continue using your certificate you will need to renew it before the expiry date. For more information about the requirements for renewals (revalidation), refer to the Maritime New Zealand (Maritime NZ) website.

maritimenz.govt.nz/seafarers

The Chief Mate <3000 GT certificate corresponds with a certificate issued under regulation II/2 of the International Convention on the Standards of Training, Certification and Watchkeeping for Seafarers, 1978, as amended (STCW).

With this certificate, you can perform the functions and duties of:

- chief mate on a ship less than 3000 gross tonnage in any operating area
- officer in charge of a navigational watch on a vessel of any gross tonnage in any operating area.

From Chief Mate <3000 GT, you can progress to Chief Mate, Master <3000 GT or Master.

Disclaimer

These guidelines provide information and explanations about the requirements set out in the maritime rules, but are not a substitute for the rules themselves, which are the law. These guidelines refer to provisions in the Maritime Rules Part 32, Seafarer Certification. The Director of Maritime New Zealand will grant a certificate only when satisfied that all requirements have been met.

In this guideline, any references to 'we' or Maritime New Zealand relating to a decision about the issue or renewal of any seafarer certificate are references to the Director or a person acting under the Director's delegated authority.

2. Requirements

Before you spend time doing sea service and training, we recommend you check that you can meet the medical fitness and eyesight standards (including for colour vision), and that you understand the fit and proper person requirements.

A summary of the requirements for this certificate is provided below. You need to prove that you meet all of the requirements to get your Chief Mate <3000 GT certificate.

- hold a current certificate of competency for Watchkeeper Deck or equivalent
- complete and pass the approved qualification for Chief Mate <3000 GT
- have the required STCW ancillary certificates
- pass Maritime NZ's final exam
- prove that you are a fit and proper person
- be medically fit and have good eyesight.

Each of these requirements and how to prove that you meet them is explained below.

You must also have English conversation, reading and writing skills appropriate to the responsibilities and functions for the level of your certificate, so that you can satisfactorily complete training, pass examinations and discharge your duties.

2. Requirements (continued)

2.1 Prior certification and qualifications

You must hold a certificate of competency as Watchkeeper Deck or equivalent.

2.2 Sea service

There are no additional sea service requirements for this certificate of competency.

2.3 Training

Approved training

You must complete training that is acceptable to the Director of Maritime NZ to achieve all of the required competencies for this certificate, as specified in section A-II/2 of the STCW Convention.

The approved training qualification for Chief Mate <3000 GT is the Diploma in Masters and Chiefs Foreign Going programme – Chief Mate Foreign Going strand. The diploma is available through the New Zealand Maritime School (Auckland).

Documents you must provide with your application

Requirement	Document(s) you must provide
Diploma in Masters and Chiefs Foreign Going programme –Chief Mate Foreign Going strand	The diploma certificate showing your name and the date of issue. Alternatively, a copy of your academic transcript evidencing completion of the qualification.

For more information about approved training providers and the competency framework for Chief Mate <3000 GT, refer to the Maritime NZ website.

Ancillary and other certificates

You must provide copies of the ancillary certificates required for your Chief Mate <3000 GT training as listed below. You need to provide evidence of the certificates and any refresher courses to confirm you have demonstrated proficiency in the required skills.

Document(s) you must provide	Ancillary certificate requirements
STCW basic training	STCW basic training that complies with STCW A-VI/1 paragraph 2 and covers basic personal survival techniques (A-VI/1-1), fire prevention and fire fighting (A-VI/1-2), elementary first aid (A-VI/1-3) and personal safety and social responsibility (A-VI/1-4). This may be issued as one certificate citing the four elements or as four separate certificates
Proficiency in survival craft and rescue boats other than fast rescue boats (PISC)	STCW survival craft and rescue boats other than fast rescue boats certificate that complies with STCW Code section A-VI/2 paragraphs 1-4 (Table A-VI/2-1)
Advanced fire fighting	STCW advanced fire-fighting certificate that complies with STCW Code section A-VI/3
Medical first aid	STCW medical first aid on board ship certificate that complies with STCW Code Section A-VI/4, paragraphs 1-3 (Table A-VI/4-1)
STCW global maritime distress and safety system radio operator certificate of competency (GMDSS)	Current certificate of competency as GMDSS radio operator as provided for in Maritime Rule 32.114, or recognised equivalent certificate that complies with STCW IV/2
Electronic chart display and information system (Generic ECDIS)	The certificate must state that the ECDIS training meets the STCW competency requirements of Table A-II/2. This is optional, but without it, your certificate will include the following limitation. This certificate is not valid for service on ships fitted with ECDIS.
Security awareness	STCW security awareness complies with the STCW Code Table A-VI/6-1. This is optional, but without it, your certificate will include the following limitation. This certificate is not valid for use on ships for which the ISPS code applies without a current proficiency in security awareness training (STCW A-VI/6-1).
A ships security officer certificate or Security awareness for seafarers with designated security duties certificate may be accepted as an alternative	The alternative must state that it meets the requirements of STCW Section A-VI/6 and Table A-VI/6-2

If you already have an ancillary certificate that demonstrates proficiency in the areas listed above and at the required level, you may use it – as long as the certificate is current and specific requirements are met.

Your certificates must also conform to the STCW regulations and have the appropriate STCW regulation number.

The following ancillary certificates must be less than five years old from the date of issue when we issue your Chief Mate <3000 GT certificate.

- STCW Basic – Personal survival techniques
- STCW Basic – Fire prevention and fire fighting
- Proficiency in survival craft
- Advanced fire fighting

Acceptance of overseas STCW training

For STCW basic training, we will accept certificates issued by any training provider that is approved by any country on the STCW white list.

For the STCW advanced training, we will accept ancillary certificates issued by any training provider that is approved by a flag state which has a memorandum of understanding with Maritime NZ.

Global Maritime Distress and Safety System (GMDSS) certificate

Before we can issue your Chief Mate <3000 GT certificate, you must provide Maritime NZ with a copy of a valid GMDSS certificate of competency as a radio operator that complies with STCW regulation IV/2. To be valid, your GMDSS certificate must be less than five years old from the date of issue.

A valid GMDSS certificate is required for the prerequisite Watchkeeper Deck certificate. Information about renewing your GMDSS certificate is available in the renewal guidelines on Maritime NZ's website.

If you have a GMDSS certificate from a foreign country, refer to the recognition guidelines to see if it is from a country whose certificates we will recognise and the process that applies.

Note: If you intend to work on ship registered by a flag state other than New Zealand, you will need to check with the administration of that flag state whether it will recognise both your Chief Mate <3000 GT certificate and your GMDSS certificate (if it is from a country other than New Zealand).

2. Requirements (continued)

2.4 Final examination

After you have completed the approved training you must sit and pass the final examination.

This examination must be conducted by a Maritime NZ approved examiner. The examination checks that you have met the standards of competency specified in section A-II/2 of the STCW Convention.

The final examination is currently an oral examination. It is usually organised by your training provider when you have completed all the requirements for the award of the NZ Diploma in Masters and Chiefs Foreign Going programme qualification.

3. When and how to apply

Apply when you have completed all of the certificate requirements. Once we have received all of the information we need from you, it may take us up to 20 working days to process your application, so send it in as soon as possible (and at least one month before you need your certificate).

Make sure you include all of the documents we have asked for. Refer to 3.4 Checklist to make sure you have everything you need for your application.

Note

If your application is incomplete, it will not be processed and we will return your application and other documents to you.

3.1 Copies of supporting documents

We only need copies of your supporting documents, not the original versions.

For the fit and proper person form you need to include sighted and signed copies of the ID documents specified.

3.2 Fees

There is a fee for your application. Refer to the Maritime NZ website for information about fees.

maritimenz.govt.nz/fees

There is a separate application fee for a GMDSS certificate (if required).

You will be invoiced once we have formally received your application. A reference number and instructions explaining how to pay will be sent with the invoice.

You can pay:

- online using a credit card or debit card, or
- by internet banking or bank deposit.

Refer to the Maritime NZ website for more information about how to pay your fees.

maritimenz.govt.nz/howtopay

Other costs

As well as the application fee, you may have other fees and expenses to pay. For example, you may need to pay for your eyesight tests, medical examination, training and ancillary courses.

3. When and how to apply (continued)

3.3 Application process

This is the application process for this certificate of competency. Complete each step before you move on to the next one.

1 Do you meet all the requirements?

You need to check that you meet all of the requirements for this certificate.

2 Do you have the documents we need?

You need to prove that you meet the requirements. Include all of the documents we have asked for. Use the checklist to help you (see 3.4 Checklist).

Remember we need copies, not the originals.

3 Send us your application by courier or email

There are two options for you to send your application:

1. Send your application by email, attaching the scanned documents.
The application form has information about the requirements for electronic copies.
2. Use a courier to send us your completed application forms and supporting documents.

The addresses are on the application form.

3. When and how to apply (continued)

4 Confirmation and/or request sent

We will send you an email or letter to confirm that we have received your application and advise you of any documents we need from you before we can assess your application.

We must receive your payment before we can finalise your application.

5 Assessment and payment of application fee

Once you have sent us all the documents we need, we will assess your application and make a decision. This will usually take 20 working days (about a month) from the time we let you know that we have received your application.

We will send you an invoice with your reference number and information on how to pay the application fee once we begin the assessment. Please note we cannot release your certificate unless payment has been received.

6 Issue certificate

We will send you:

- your certificate, if your application has been successful, or
- a letter or email explaining why your application was unsuccessful.

3. When and how to apply (continued)

3.4 Checklist
