1. Overview

Able Seafarer Deck (AB Deck) certificate of proficiency

This guideline is for new applicants for the Able Seafarer Deck certificate of proficiency. It does not cover recognition of an equivalent certificate obtained outside New Zealand.

The information in this guideline covers sea service, training and other requirements for the certificate, how to apply and pay for your certificate, and where to find more information.

Once you have your AB Deck certificate it does not expire and will not need to be renewed.

The AB Deck certificate corresponds with a certificate issued under regulation II/5 of the International Convention on the Standards of Training, Certification and Watchkeeping for Seafarers, 1978, as amended (STCW).

With this certificate, you can perform the functions and duties of a deck rating forming part of a navigational watch on ships of any gross tonnage (GT) in any operating area.

From AB Deck, you can progress to Integrated Rating and to the operational-level officer certificate Watchkeeper Deck.

Disclaimer

These guidelines provide information and explanations about the requirements set out in the maritime rules, but are not a substitute for the rules themselves, which are the law. These guidelines refer to provisions in the Maritime Rules Part 32, Seafarer Certification. The Director of Maritime New Zealand will grant a certificate only when satisfied that all requirements have been met.

In this guideline, any references to 'we' or Maritime New Zealand relating to a decision about the issue or renewal of any seafarer certificate are references to the Director or a person acting under the Director's delegated authority.

2. Requirements

Before you spend time doing sea service and training, we recommend you check that you can meet the medical fitness and eyesight standards (including for colour vision), and that you understand the fit and proper person requirements.

A summary of the requirements for this certificate is provided below. You need to meet all of these requirements to get your AB Deck certificate.

- hold a current Deck Watch Rating certificate or equivalent
- prove you have met the minimum sea service requirements
- complete and pass the approved qualification for AB Deck
- have the required ancillary certificates
- pass Maritime NZ's final exam
- prove that you are a fit and proper person
- be medically fit and have good eyesight
- be at least 18 years old.

Each of these requirements and how to prove that you meet them is explained in the following pages.

2. Requirements (continued)

2.1 Prior certification and qualifications

You must hold a current Deck Watch Rating (DWR) certificate of competency or equivalent.

2.2 Sea service

Your sea service must be relevant and appropriate to the requirements set out in regulation II/5 of the STCW convention. This means that you must complete your sea service on commercial ships in the deck department.

All of your sea service must be completed in the 10 years immediately before you apply for the certificate.

It is preferred that you complete your sea service on vessels of 500 GT or more, operating beyond restricted limits. However, sea service that does not meet this specific requirement will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Sea service requirement

You can choose from two options for the sea service requirements for AB Deck, as shown below. You must complete one of them.

Option 1

At least 12 months of sea service and successful completion of an approved training programme.

Option 2

At least 18 months of relevant sea service.

Proving your sea service

You are responsible for making sure your sea service is documented and verified by your ship's master or company.

To help you keep track of your sea service we suggest that you complete the summary of sea service form contained in your training record book that you will complete as part of the approved training programme. Alternatively, you may use the summary of sea service form available on the Maritime NZ website to keep track of your sea service. This form is not required to support your application.

To prove your sea service, you must provide at least one of the following documents for each vessel you have served on:

- certificate of sea service or record of employment (available on Maritime NZ's website)
- completed seafarer's record book
- discharge certificate or discharge book (ensuring that any section on watchkeeping is appropriately signed off)
- letter from your employer.

2. Requirements (continued)

The documents you provide must contain all of the following details for each vessel you have served on:

- your employer's name and contact details
- the name, gross tonnage and type of vessel (for example, cargo vessel, tanker, bulk carrier)
- the type of cargo carried and area of operation
- the dates you were employed and the sea time completed between those dates
- your duties.

Any statutory declarations you have made are generally not acceptable as proof of your sea service. However, the Director will consider these in exceptional circumstances.

Calculating sea service for voyages

Relevant qualifying sea service is expected to be on voyages of 24 hours or more, calculated as follows:

- from the sign-on date of starting work on the ship to the sign-off date of discharge (both dates are inclusive)
- by counting each whole calendar month during this period as one month
- for multiple voyages, by adding together extra days that do not fall within a calendar month, with each addition of 30 days to be calculated as one month.

Extended time in port is generally not counted as sea service, and nor is time on leave.

Note

Voyage means a voyage between a port or place of departure and a ship's final port or place of arrival. It includes any period of 24 hours (or more) where you are signed on or employed on the vessel and you remain on board.

For example: If your service record shows your sign-on date as 3 March and sign-off date as 14 April, your sea service would be calculated as one month (3 March to 2 April) and 12 days (from 3 to 14 April inclusive).

For more information about calculating your sea service, refer to the Maritime NZ website.

You must provide copies of the ancillary certificates you gained as part of your AB Deck training. A ships security officer certificate or Security awareness for seafarers with designated security duties certificate may be accepted as an alternative.	The certificate must state that it meets the requirements of STCW Section A-VI/6 and Table A-VI/6-2.

If you already have an ancillary certificate that demonstrates proficiency in the areas listed above and at the required level, you may use it – as long as the certificate is current and specific requirements are met.

The following ancillary certificates must be less than five years old from the date of issue when we issue your AB Deck certificate.

The final examination is currently an oral examination. It is usually organised by your training provider when you have completed all the requirements for the award of the NZ Certificate in Maritime Crewing qualification.
