

Specified activity endorsement

This guideline and application form covers the specified activity endorsement

Specified activity endorsement

This document is uncontrolled if printed. Please refer to the Maritime New Zealand website for the latest version.

Maritime Rule Part 32.67 provides for holders of a Skipper Restricted Limits (SRL) and ring-fenced certificates of competency to obtain a specified activity endorsement to enable them to operate beyond restricted limits to 100 nautical miles (NM) from the coast, for the purpose of conducting a specified activity.

The following certificate holders may apply for the specified activity endorsement:

- Skipper restricted limits <24m
- Skipper restricted limits <500 GT
- Commercial launchmaster
- Inshore fishing skipper
- Inshore launchmaster
- Local launchmans licence (LLL)
- Local launch operator (LLO)
- Master restricted limit launch
- Master river ship
- Master small home trade ship
- NZOW + ILM endorsement

Endorsement requirements and restrictions

To gain a specified activity endorsement, certificate holders need to demonstrate extra knowledge and competence (see below). They also need to comply with rule requirements and MNZ guidelines.

This endorsement is subject to the condition that the privileges under the endorsement are only exercised:

- with a minimum of two crew at all times
- with at least one crew member who holds a current MEC 6 or equivalent or higher certificate
- for the purposes of the specified activity to which the endorsement applies
- on a ship of less than 24 metres in length.

Extra knowledge and competence

Successful applicants for a specified activity endorsement are able to operate in coastal and offshore limits up to 100NM from the coast for significant periods of time. For this reason, they must gain the following extra competencies and successfully complete an oral exam conducted by an MNZ-approved examiner.

These modules are taken from the Skipper Coastal/Offshore (SCO) framework.

- passage planning
- coastal and offshore meteorology
- preparation for coastal and offshore voyages
- crew organisation
- heavy weather precautions
- maintenance of vessel stability.

To demonstrate you have gained these competencies you must complete and pass an oral exam.

Ancillary certificates

The following ancillaries must be completed

Ancillary certificate	Document(s) you must provide
First aid certificate	First aid certificate (two-day course) (must be less than two years old from the certificate issue date) Either Unit Standards 6400, 6401 and 6402 or Unit Standards 6400, 26551 and 26552 or equivalent revised standard
Fire fighting	Unit Standard 12310 or equivalent revised standard
Survival craft	Unit Standard US 12309 or equivalent revised standard
MGROC certificate	Maritime General Radiotelephone Operator's Certificate issued under Radio Communications Act 1989 or an equivalent under International Radio Regulations

Contact an approved training provider for information about the available training.

Recognition of prior learning in these competencies is possible if the holder of a certificate with a specified activity endorsement subsequently undertakes an approved training course for the SCO certificate.

To demonstrate that you have met these requirements, you will need to provide copies of your ancillary certificates.

Statement about operational need for the endorsement

You will need to provide a summary of the operational activity you need the endorsement for. Include the type of activity (eg albacore trolling or scientific research) and the sea area you will be working in.

How to apply for a specified activity endorsement

Applicants should complete the application form at the back of this document.

The fee for this endorsement application is charged at an hourly rate. Refer to 3.1 of the application form for more information.

You will need to provide all the information we require. If any items are missing, we will not be able to process your application.

Disclaimer:

This guideline provides information and explanations about the requirements set out in the maritime rules, but are not a substitute for the rules themselves, which are the law. Other methods of complying with the rules may be possible; however, MNZ would first need to be satisfied that those alternative methods were of an equivalent standard to the advice in the guidance.
